Elaine Linn:

- Son on diploma track, while at the school she didn't see any child like hers. They said they can't modify curriculum if on diploma track.
- Family Voices of California Health Care Summit (2/26-27/2018)
  - Youth track

Joyce McNair:

- Affordable Housing Summit
  - 300 attendees
  - The criminalization of homelessness
  - Housing Choice Voucher closes 1/31/18
  - Sacwaitlist.com SHRA, CADA.net has rental assistance apts. Available.
  - Disability Voices United – you can join at www.disabilityvoicesunited.org

Brandy Boyd:

- EMPLOYMENT: Barrier - High School Workability opportunities in Sacramento City School District are limited due to staffing noting they only have funding to support 1 student in a job.
- A Touch of Understanding Goals and Dreams Workshop (register by 2/10/18).
- Parent – Elk Grove
  - Friday Hangout – Parks and Recreation took over, geared toward I/DD.
- Sac Library Activities
  - Library Insiders
  - ACC Devices at 3 branches
  - Assistive Tech. UCD MIND Institute
  - Crocker Museum – More Activities
    - WarmLine FRC provided training to Crocker docents
  - Fairytale Town – Adventure Playground

Karen Mulvany:

- EMPLOYMENT: Self-Employment Options needed.
- LPPC in October 2018.
  - Voted to include our RACs proposed legislation to clarify consumers in attached Accessory Dwelling Units (ADU) lacking a separate physical address should qualify for Supported Living Services (SLS) through ACRC funding.
  - Working with El Dorado County planners on housing solutions for I/DD – Karen, Sonya and ACRC.
- IHSS Protective Supervision – Some counties are reassessing recipients with Protective Supervision, which could result in a loss of IHSS hours. For how to best advocate, see Disability Rights of California Website at www.disabilityrightscalifornia.org/pubs/549301.pdf

Donnell Kenworthy:

- Yolo County SELPA CAC Meeting
  - Presentation from Hank and Ian, a father/son titled “My Autistic Life” was very well attended and received.
  - Involved with Project leadership

Jane Taylor:

- Presenting and requesting ACRC services for her adult son transitioning from school district services.
  - Dr. Robert Closson – Advocate; Stanford IEP.

5) Public Comment Period

- Patti Uplinger – Housing Now regarding issues with lack of affordable housing options.
- Randy Hicks – HR620 Bill
- Pat and Linda Dwyer: Parents from El Dorado County are very concerned about the impact of HCBS transition requirements on MORE Rehabilitation Center. MORE provides a spectrum of services for a continuum of functional abilities including a day program, supported employment and residential facilities. The Dwyers are concerned about the HCBS community integration model, where emphasis on tailored day services could result in loss of interaction with peers and excessive dependence on individual care providers. The risk is “integration isolation,” where mandated integration with broader community is prioritized over interaction with disabled peers. Community integration requirements seem especially unrealistic for the most disabled, and could increase the risk of abuse or neglect.

6) Regional Center Report, ACRC Staff

- Jason Lindo reported:
  - ACRC staff will be receiving several in-services/trainings

- Adult Protective Services
- Cultural Diversity by Dr. Paul Porter
- Hispanic Community for Cultural and Linguistic understanding
- Forum on the HCBS Final Rule (ACRC, DOR, CDE, DDS)
- WEAVE – Sexual abuse with consumers
- Medicaid audit results were very good, minimal findings. 58% of consumers on waiver. 42% of ACRC budget is Medicaid waiver funds.
- Self-Determination
  - DDS may submit the waiver on 1/31/18 at which time will be a 90 day public comment time. Possibly by July 2018 the waiver will be accepted.
  - ACRC will have 175 consumers served via the SD program; there is a possibility to add 5-10 more based on waiver acceptance. ACRC has the most SD consumers on the list statewide; currently there are 2000 ACRC consumers on the list.
  - SD information sessions offered via Webcast to families at https://portal.altaregional.org/data/training/SDP\_Info\_Narated/story\_html5.html.

Subject: Breaking News: CA Formally Submits Self-Determination Waiver

The following is sent on behalf of Statewide Self Determination Advisory Committee Chair April Lopez

Today, the CA Department of Developmental Services (DDS) announced that California has formally submitted the Self-Determination Waiver to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). This is a critical step toward self-determination beginning for 2,500 regional center clients in California.

CMS now has 90 days to review the waiver. CMS could approve, deny, or return the waiver with questions.

DDS made the announcement at the Statewide Self Determination Advisory Committee (SSDAC) meeting in Sacramento.

SSDAC immediately shifted our energy and work to implementation. There are many areas to address and questions to answer to make sure the program starts as smoothly as possible. DDS is here with the local Self Determination Chairs today to discuss where we are now and how do we make it work. We went into details on many topics, including the FMS, the independent facilitator, and developing the budget.

I'm very glad to celebrate this milestone with all of you. Let's pause, appreciate what happened today, and then push onward to the next challenge.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
March 8, 2018

Assembly Creates Select Committee on Persons with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities

SACRAMENTO - The State Council on Developmental Disabilities (SCDD) commends Speaker Rendon for the creation of a new Select Committee on Persons with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities in the Assembly. The Council is grateful for the leadership of Assemblymember Frazier in leading this new Select Committee. The purpose of the Select Committee is to educate and advocate on behalf of people with disabilities through informational hearings and presenting research with the goal of creating awareness of obstacles that individuals with disabilities and their families persistently face in accessing needed services and supports.

"The State Council on Developmental Disabilities applauds the Assembly's focused leadership," stated April Lopez, SCDD Chair. "The needs of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities span every aspect of society. Issues like childhood development, school, employment, housing, transportation, healthcare, and public safety impact every person. The systems are complex just as the needs are complex. This Select Committee will give the Assembly the ability to find real solutions for people who have faced historical injustices and are often hit the hardest by changes in the world. We enjoy our working relationship with Assemblymember Jim Frazier and have every confidence in his leadership."

The California Legislature recognized the right of ensuring access to needed services and supports for people with developmental disabilities when it passed the Lanterman Developmental Disabilities Services Act in 1977. The Lanterman Act declares that persons with developmental disabilities have the same civil rights that are guaranteed to all other persons by federal and state constitutions and laws. However, the full intent of the Lanterman Act has yet to be realized. Still too often, persons with developmental disabilities are not accounted for in the creation of public policies. The creation of the Select Committee is a positive step towards realizing the goals of the Lanterman Act for every person with an intellectual or developmental disability.

The Committee roster can be found at the following location: <http://assembly.ca.gov/intellectual-developmental-disabilities>. The State Council on Developmental Disabilities looks forward to working with all of the members.

Close to 50 years ago, Congress established the State Councils in every state and territory. The Councils are authorized in the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000 to ensure that individuals with developmental disabilities and their families design and can access services and supports that "promote self-determination, independence, productivity, and integration and inclusion" in community life. The Lanterman Act establishes the SCDD in California to be comprised of 31 members appointed by the Governor, including individuals with disabilities, their families, other partners and state agencies. The SCDD develops a five-year state plan to implement the DD Act through the work of 12 regional offices in California. The plan is developed with stakeholder input and is focused on addressing systemic barriers to employment, housing, education, community supports, health and safety for persons with developmental disabilities.
